New telephone conections for NOIDA subscribers connected with electronic exchange

248. SHRI VIRENDRA VERMA:
SHRI ISH DUTT YADAV:

Will the Minister of COMMUNICATIONS be pleased to state:

(a) whether all the new telephones to be given to NOIDA subscribers are to be connected with the electronic exchange;

(b) if so, when the electronic exchange was set up in NOIDA;

(c) the number of new and old telephones connected with the electronic exchange from January, 1989 to December, 1989 and what is the number of new telephones given in 1989 which have not been connected with this exchange;

(d) the basis on which old telephones were connected with the electronic exchange in preference to new connections;

(e) what are the reasons for not connecting the new phones given in 1989 with the electronic exchange when it is capable of taking the load;

(f) whether there is a general complaint of the telephones connected with the Non-electronic exchange remaining out-of-order and the subscribers have to pay for almost five calls to get a number; and

(g) whether Government propose to connect the remaining phones given in 1980 with the electronic exchange; if not, what are the reasons thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STEEL AND MINES WITH ADDITIONAL CHARGE OF THE MINISTRY OF LAW AND JUSTICE (SHRI DINESH GOSWAMI): (a) Yes, Sir.

(b) Electronic Exchange was set up on 30-3-88 and was expanded by 1000 lines in Feb., 1989.

(c) (i) The number of telephones connected from Jan. 89 to Dec. 89 from Electronic Exchange are 732.

(ii) The number of old telephones connected with electronic exchange during Jan., 89 to Dec., 89 are 345.

(iii) Number of new telephones given in 1989 which have not been connected with this electronic exchange are 288.

(d) There was no preference for old connection in comparison to the new connections. However the capacity left un-utilized because of subscriber not ready to take connection was used for converting certain old numbers of strowger exchange to electronic exchange. Preference was given to following categories of old connections for conversion to electronic exchange.

PCO's, essential public utility telephones, Govt. connections with public utility, one telephone out of three telephones working at the same premises, Two telephones out of five telephones working in the same premises and connections on Technical grounds like provision of STD and bad performance etc.

(e) Connections were given from strowger exchange only when the capacity of E-10B exchange was exhausted. These connections were not bulk release, but committed cases or out of turn connections.

(f) There is no geenral complaint of subscriber of non-electronic exchange. However the number of complaints is more in non-electronic exhange than in electronic exchange. It is not correct to say that the subscriber has to dial five call to get one number.

(g) The new policy about connecting certain number from strowger exchange to electronic exhange will be formulated only after the commissioning of 5000 lines eletronic exchange expansion which is expected during 1990-91.
